

County Attorney L. W. Bethurum.

Whose announcement as a candidate for Judge of the Rockcastle County Court, appears in this issue. Mr. Bethurum has made a splendid record as prosecutor and the law-breakers, when brought before him, have had a rugged path to travel. It is not known, for sure whether he will have opposition for the nomination or not, and his announcement for Judge will come as a surprise to many, as it was generally believed throughout the county that he would stand for re-election as County Attorney. He will be a strong man in the race. He is a graduate of the University of Law, Louisville, and has been a successful practitioner at this bar for the past ten years.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, the stomach expands—swells, and puffs up against the heart. This crowds the heart and shortens the breath. Rapid heart beats and heart disease is the final result. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, takes the strain off the heart, cures indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. JOHN D. CARROLL.

A CANDIDATE FOR APPELLATE JUDGE OF THIS DISTRICT.

Hon. John D. Carroll, of New Castle, one of the best known lawyers in the State, has announced as a candidate for Appellate Judge in this District, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Carroll's friends—especially in the legal profession—have for a long time desired to see him on the bench of the highest court in the State. He has held several offices of trust and honor, and in all of them acquitted himself with credit. When quite a young man he served two terms in the Legislature; was a member of the Constitutional Convention, and one of the three commissioners appointed by the Governor to revise the statute laws of the State to conform to the changes made by the constitution, and was for three years chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee. He is the editor of Carroll's Kentucky Codes of Practice, and Carroll's Kentucky Statutes. Law books that are in general use and that may be found in the office of every lawyer in the State. A man of high integrity, great industry, with an extensive and accurate knowledge of the law, and in the prime of life, his large circle of friends believe he would make a splendid judge.—Trimble Democrat.

BUCK VARNON WRITES FROM SOMERSET.

We are again located in the Queen City of the mountains for a short time, to feed on mountain air and electricity.

The Presidential ticket seems to be very acceptable to the democrats, but our Republican friends are somewhat nonplussed. They wanted Cleveland, but you see, we didn't. I want, right here and now, to say: "Three long, loud, echoing cheers for Bryan, the biggest, the brainiest and the best man in Uncle Sam's Dominion." Look, ye deserters of '93 and '96.

Where did you find Bryan and what did you find him doing? Playing the roll of Watterson and Co? No, but in every case quietly submitting to the vote or expressed wishes of the majority of his party at St. Louis, and now ready to go to work for the ticket, tho' not his choice.

Watterson and those other "big fellows" who bolted in 1896, said hard things about Bryan, elected McKinley, and almost destroyed our party in "saving the country"—National Banks. They should hasten to Mr. Bryan without delay and ask his forgiveness; confessing their sins. If they are Bryan's friends they'll do it, or if they have the spirit of him, and a soul of democracy, they will.

Te republicans will not sleep on "Beds of Roses" from now on till the "Ides of November has fully come," and then their briars may become thorns, for I tell you "Jordan is a hard road to travel," and especially that political jordan mentioned at St. Louis. Polly Tix, like merchandise, fluctuate, and the rich and prosperous of today may be the bankrupts tomorrow. But I should not write on this wise for the rads. may see it, take timely warning and "spur to greater action."

Well, Somerset is on a boom and a general business whiz from the oil corporation clear down the line to the driver or the "blind hoss rig" on the street, that goes at his master's bidding from 3:00 a. m. till 10:00 p. m., with but little rest, food or drink during those 21 hours, and there are no Sundays for him. Remember, heartless man, that "only the merciful can obtain mercy" and "that the merciful man is merciful to his brutes." Let us remember that life is short, that a just judgment is sure, and Eternity can never, never end. Don't have any blind hosses or dehorned cows in your way as witnesses on the great day.

The auction sales and New York store for the last two weeks, have had a trade that has downed the merchants for the time being, and filled the county with some very good, and some very worthless goods. I saw jeans sell at 8 1/2c, and pretty good shoes from 25c to 50c. Hats almost given away, and other things along these lines and figures. Somerset is the place to buy cheap goods,—but most of them are cheap.

Ed Parker made a speech here Saturday and if his statements are to be relied on the Republican party in the Eleventh district is by far the rottenest and most corrupt thing on this side the gates of hades.

The "Ins and want-to-get-ins," constitute the two factional forces and the way they fight and tell "hard things" on each other even makes democrats feel ashamed. All the revenue officers seem to be for Hunter and those who would have a slice of pie are against him, (i.e.) the "outs."—The farmers hereabouts are like those of Level Green, needing rain on corn, gardens are splendid and vegetables are very cheap: potatoes only 50c, beans, cabbage, cowcubers and permadues very cheap indeed.

Peddlers from the country haul in and sell their garden products, chickens, eggs, &c., every day. Eggs are 15c. per dozen. Lots of fine new houses are going up here now and one day in the near future Somerset will be a city indeed.

I visited Bro. Campbell in his sanctum where he is running the best semi-weekly in Kentucky. Even the repubs. patronize him in preference to other papers. Bro. Campbell is highly pleased with the

LAND, STOCK AND CROP

R. Leslie Combs, of Lexington, bought of C. Lebus his 1904 crop of wool, 4,012 pounds at 25 cents straight.—Ewing Enquirer.

J. N. Newman had bought altogether up to Tuesday noon about 1000 bushels of new wheat, having paid from 83 to 91 cents. He bought 5,000 bushels of Tuesbay from John E. Harris at 91 cts.—Woodford Sun.

The big potato crop this year promises to make up for the short one of last year. Reports from all sections are to the effect that more potatoes will be raised this season than in any one single year for a long time.... P. Pen Taylor and H. L. Quiseudeary sold last week to John Wages of Madison county 103 heifers weighing 1000 pounds, at $4.35. It was reported that Mr. Taylor had sold a couple of loads of expert cattle, but it was R. Stuart Taylor instead.—Winchester Democrat.

The Western genius who discovered that there is a market for canned jackrabbits has probably sounded the death knell of the long legged creature of the prairie. The first causing factory has been established at Echo, Ore., and thousands of jackrabbits are slaughtered in that vicinity each month.

The live stock Journal, Chicago, says the general loss of pigs all over the stock breeding States from the late cold spring must make a short supply of breeding hogs, as well as for fattening pigs. Twenty-five or fifty percent of the pigs have been lost, according to reports from several States. Pure bred feeding pigs of early litters are so scarce that their prices will be higher than ever known, and the loss of thousands of pigs in March and April will make a short supply of fat pigs, which must advance prices.

A great cheese made in Hamilton, Mo., has been shipped for exhibition in the dairy section of the Missouri exhibit at the World's Fair. It is seven feet in diameter, 14 inches thick, and weighs about 1,500 pounds. On the face of the cheese is the word "Missouri," and in bas relief is pictured a milkmaid seated milking in a field of clover and grass. The plaster cast for making the cheese was made in St. Louis, and the milk used in the cheese was the product of two days product of a Hamilton creamery, 1,690 pounds of curd being used.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

In reply to J. N. Brown's question some time ago, in regard to the Russian-Japanese war:

The cause of the war is contention over Manchuria, Port Arthur and Korea. These powers are about 4,000 miles apart. The population of Japan is about 50,000,000, and that of Russia 150,000,000, or three times as large as Japan. Port Arthur is on the south coast of Manchuria. Manchuria and Korea are in the eastern part of Asia. Russia has to transport her troops about 4,000 miles and her means of transportation is by railroad—altogether—over the Trans Siberian railroad. The governments of Russia and Japan are monarchical. J. M. Craig.

Will "Buck Varnon" please explain:

We find in World Almanac that on Feb. 1903, Sun on meridian 12 o'clock 14 1/2 min. And in Nov. Sun on meridian 11 o'clock and 43 min. In one case the sun is 14 1/2 min. slow; and in the other 17 min. fast. Why is it?

Please explain why the sun will shine on north side of a house morning and evening, and the same house, at noon will cast a shadow to the north?

J. S. Reppert.

I am indeed sorry to have to think that our teachers, who have hitherto been considered equal to those of any other county in Kentucky, cannot be interested in Bro. Albright's generous offer. Only give me one half-dozen women with the vim and zeal of the C. O. correspondent and we'll run this to perfection. Fellow teachers of Rockcastle, if a non-resident can take as much interest in our welfare as Mrs. —, of Crab Orchard does, why can't you come to the front? Shame on you.

Now I expect to make personal calls on you, and you must answer. If we tried to have something more amusing and less instructive, you'd help up.

J. N. Brown.

The teachers, evidently believing that they are already wise enough or are too indifferent about the matter, we will after two weeks longer, unless more interest is manifested, bring to a close our Q. and A. column. This offer was made purely for the benefit of the teachers and it is not our wish to push anything on a people; which they do not want.—Editor:

SCRAPS

(BY JET.)

It is in order now to name the kin Alton Brooks Parker.

Slowboy—Am I to understand that you regard me only in the light of a friend, Miss Nan?

Miss Nan—Well, it isn't my fault if you—don't know enough to turn down the light.

"See here, Maginnis, this man is doing twice the work that you are."

"That's what O've bin a-tellin' him for the last hour, so; but the bloody Italian won't stop."

Chumleigh. "I feel as if I were throwing myself away on that girl. Our house is one of the greatest in England."

Dearborn. "Well, her father's packing house is one of the biggest in America."

—Judge.

"Pa," said the boy, looking up from his book, "what does a man's 'better half' mean?"

"Usually, my son," replied his father from behind the evening paper, "she means exactly what she says."

A little five-year-old chap, was writing a letter to his absent father. After telling about the family, he said: "And you just ought to see my puppy, papa! He is getting bigger every day, and sometimes twice a day."

"Such conduct," said the teacher to a rebellious pupil, "will eventually bring your father's gray hairs in sorrow to the grave."

"Don't you believe it," replied the incorrigible youngster. "The governor wears a wig, see?"

Ruth is still in the nursery, but her big brother has a bicycle. Ruth heard all sorts of conversations about "tires," "gear" and other bicycle terms. One morning Ruth stepped upon an innocent looking pin. Above her screams was heard, "Come, mother, quick; I've got a puncture."

Sadie—What is that big iron thing full of holes?
Ramie—That is a locomotive boiler.

Sadie—Indeed! But who do they have to boil locomotives?
Ramie—Oh, to make them tender, I suppose.

Louis Landram says: "A New York court has decided that a street car conductor has no right to kick a passenger in the stomach. There always was a proper place for delivering a kick, and it is pleasant to note that at least one departure from the time honored custom has been judiciously frowned upon."

They were playing tennis on the old lawn.

"Dear me," remarked the young man, with a far-away look in his eyes, "we never hear of old fashioned kissing games any more. They have gone out of style."

"I don't agree with you," replied the pretty girl, "any game is a kissing game if you supply the kisses."

A well known Walnut Hills minister, during his discourse one Sabbath morning, said: "In each blade of grass there is a sermon."

The following day one of his flock discovered the good man pushing a lawn mower about his yard, and paused to say: "Well, parson, I'm glad to see you engaged in cutting your sermons short."

A traveller in England rested at noon at a wayside inn, and took luncheon. The landlord was a social person, and after presenting his bill sat down and chatted with his guest.

"By the way," the latter said, after a while, "what is your name?"

"My name," replied the landlord, "is Partridge."

"Ah," returned the traveler, with a humorous twinkle in his eyes, "by the length of your bill I should have thought it was Woodcock!"

"Are you the man who put in the paper that my brother was a liar?" asked the tall, rough-looking man of a north Missouri editor recently.

"Why, my dear sir," began the editor.

"Are you the man?" interrupted the other pushing his hand into his pocket.

"I—," faltered the editor.

"Well, if you are I want to tell you that you done a good job of it," came from the rough man. "He is a liar. Here's a dollar, send me your paper for a year."

As the door slammed behind him the editor fainted.

The subject of the debate was, "Resolve, That the clothes made the person." There was general agreement among the speakers that the clothes do make the person. But by-and-by a long young farmer unlimbered himself and said: "Ladies and Gentlemen and Feller Citizens: it seem to me that this yere question is too ridiculous fer discussion. Why of a woman dressed in the finest silks and the latest style should come into this yere school house at this yere minute, but few would see her. But ef she kim in yere without any clothes, every tarantion eye in the house would be glued on her."

It was not an American farmer of whom an English paper tells a story, although the incident might possibly be matched on this side of the water. The agriculturist in question had been to a rent dinner to enjoy himself among men of his own walk in life, while his hard-working wife stayed at home and saw to it that the farm suffered no loss in his absence.

"I'm about tired out," was the man's greeting upon his return.

"Is t' cows in t' barn?"

"Yes, long since," replied his spouse, barely stopping a moment from her duties to glance at him as she spoke.

"Is t' hosses unharnessed and fed?" he inquired.

"Yes," with a smile.

"How's locked up?"

"Yes, dear."

"Wood chopped for mornin'?"

"Yes, my lord."

"Them ducks plucked and dressed for market?"

"Yes, sit down and don't worry."

"Wagon wheel mended and ready to start in t' mornin'?"

"Yes, indeed, to your notion."

Six carloads of enthusiastic friends from Kingston visited Judge Alton B. Parker last night and gave him a great ovation. A dispatch from Portland, Ore. says: "There will never be another silver dollar coined in this country," said George T. Roberts, Director of the United States Mint, in an interview here. Mr. Roberts is enroute to Alaska and made this statement in answer to a question put to him by a representative of the Oregonian. "No, there will be no more silver dollars turned out by the Government mint plant unless by some chance a 16 to 1 Congress should be elected, for the supply of silver bullion purchased under the Sherman act is exhausted."

A remarkable feature of the opening day, October 16 of the big missionary convention at the World's Fair will be an immense celebration of the Lord's Supper. Preparations are being made for 10,000 people to sit at one communion table together with accommodations for 7,000 more under the same roof. This communion service, where 17,000 people will partake of the Lord's supper at one time, will probably be the largest communion service ever held in the world and this sight alone, would merely, as a unusual in the world's history, abundantly repay for whatever sacrifice it may be some of our Christian church members to go to the convention.

CHAS. C. DAVIS, our local druggist, asks the readers of this paper who are suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia to call on him at once and get a bottle of Kodo Dyspepsia Cure. If you knew the value of this remedy as we know it, you would not suffer another day. Kodo Dyspepsia Cure is a thorough digestant and tissue-building tonic as well. It is endorsed personally by hundreds of people whom it has cured of indigestion, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart and stomach troubles generally. Kodo Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. It is pleasant, palatable and strengthening.

Lesson in the International Series for July 24, 1904—"Jehoshaphat's Reform."

(Prepared by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher.)
[Copyright, 1904, by J. M. Edson.]
LESSON TEXT.

(2 Chron. 19:1-11; Memory Verses 4-6.)
And Jehoshaphat the king of Judah returned to his house in peace to Jerusalem. 2. And Jehu the son of Hanani the seer went out to meet him, and said to King Jehoshaphat, Shouldest thou help the ungodly, and love them that hate the Lord? therefore is wrath upon thee from before the Lord.

3. Nevertheless there are good things found in thee, in that thou hast taken away the groves out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seek God.

4. And Jehoshaphat dwelt at Jerusalem; and he went out again through the people from Beersheba to Mount Ephraim, and brought them back unto the Lord God of their fathers.

5. And he set judges in the land throughout all the fenced cities of Judah, city by city.

6. And said to the judges, Take heed what ye do, for ye judge not for man, but for the Lord, Who is with you in the judgment.

7. Wherefore now let the fear of the Lord be upon you; take heed and do it: for there is no iniquity with the Lord our God, nor respect of persons, neither taking of gifts.

8. Moreover in Jerusalem did Jehoshaphat set of the Levites, and of the priests, and of the chief of the fathers of Israel, for the judgment of the Lord, and for controversies when they returned to Jerusalem.

9. And he charged them, saying, Thus shall ye do in the fear of the Lord, faithfully, and with a perfect heart.

10. And what cause soever shall come to you of your brethren that dwell in their cities, between blood and blood, between law and commandment, statutes and judgments, ye shall even warn them that they respect not against the Lord, and so wrath come upon you, and upon your brethren; his do, and ye shall not trespass.

11. And, behold, Amariah the chief priest is over you in all matters of the Lord; and also the Levites shall be officers before you. Deal courageously, and the Lord shall be with the good.

THE LESSON includes 2 Chron. 17:20-22; Kings 22:1-11.

All of the interesting history of Elijah, the Prophet, which will be considered for August and September, occurred during Jehoshaphat's reign.

Comparing Scripture with Scripture.

"Jehu," the seer went out to meet him.—The same prophet who had rebuked Baasha, king of Israel.—1 Kings 16:1.

"God repeatedly sent His prophets to rebuke sin in high places. See 1 Sam. 2:10; 2 Sam. 12:1; 1 Kings 13:1; 1 Kings 17:1, etc. Ps. 103:8, but—Ps. 103:9.

"Shouldst thou help the ungodly and love them that hate the Lord?" Eph. 1:11; 2 Cor. 6:14-17; 2 John 10:11. This ungodly alliance probably led later to the marriage of Jehoshaphat's son, Jehoram, to Ahab's daughter.—2 Chron. 21:6.

"Nevertheless, there are good things found in thee"—See Jehoshaphat's splendid record in 2 Chron. 17. God is always ready to see the good and give due credit.

"He went out again."—See 2 Chron. 17:7-9. In the prosperity of the kingdom and the interest of the king in other things, the early reforms had undoubtedly lapsed, as they do to-day. We need to remember 1 Cor. 15:58.

"Brought them back unto the Lord."—Dan. 12:5; Jas. 5:20; Rom. 15:1.

"Set judges in the land."—This means his reappointment of commissioners of public instruction mentioned in Chap. 17:7-9. Perhaps with new powers and a large staff of assistants.

"Take heed what ye do; for ye judge not for man, but for the Lord, who is with you in the judgment."—This would be a good text to hang over the desk of every judge in the land to-day. Much of the evil in Israel had arisen from dishonorable judges.—Comp. 1 Sam. 8:1-3 with vs. 4 and 5.

"Moreover,"—Jehoshaphat did not rest content with educational and judicial reforms. He reestablished the religious functions of the priests and Levites, charging them to serve "in the fear of the Lord, faithfully, and with a perfect heart." Reform must go deeper than mere externalities if it is to be permanent and effective. The heart is the place to start every reform, for—Matt. 15:19.

"Deal courageously."—"It takes a brave man to be a reformer. Matt. 5:29-30, Matt. 10:28. Make no compromise. God in dealing with sin accepts nothing but unconditional surrender. He never temporizes. Dare we? "Deal courageously," therefore, for "the Lord shall be with the good." This lesson furnishes striking example of this, and this promise was renewed by Jesus in Matthew 28:18-20 and John 14:23.

Seed Thoughts.

Three points about God are emphasized in his lesson: "No iniquity with Him"—Deut. 32:4; Rom. 9:14; "No respect of persons,"—Acts 10:34; Rom. 2:11; Eph. 6:9; 1 Peter 1:17; and "No taking of gifts." Man cannot bribe God.

The Prophet's rebuke was followed by Jehoshaphat's repentance, the evidences of which were: (1) Contrition—sorry for sin; (2) Confession—admission of sin. (3) Conversion—turning from sin. (4) Restitution—making amends as far as possible for sin. Measure the quality of your repentance by this four-fold test.

BROKE JAIL.—Jim Ballou, who was serving out a $500 fine in the county jail, made his escape Tuesday night. When Jailer Parsons went in about dark to clean up, Ballou was standing near the door and made a grand rush. Jailer Parsons and several others pursued him some distance, firing several shots at him, which was returned by Ballou, who had by some means been able to get a pistol in the jail. Ballou was fined for putting things in the jail to assist Bill Newcomb to escape some two months' before he was taken to the pen.

GARNISHEE LAW CHANGED.

Of interest to merchants is the new garnishee bill which passed the last Legislature and which became a law recently. The bill repeals the provision of Sections 1901, Kentucky Statutes, with reference to exemptions and attachment: "Provided, That the exemption of $150 shall not apply to debts, contracted for food, fuel, medicine, raiment or house rent for the family." Under the old law the wages of a person earning less than $50 a month were not subject to attachment unless for food, raiment, fuel, etc. Now the exemption for debts of that character is the same as the exemption for any other debts. Under the present law unless a person earns more than $50 a month, his wages cannot be attached for any debt—Interior Journal.

There is a mistake somewhere. One of our leading lawyers claims the bill only places the wage earner on the same footing as all other persons and that "garnishees" will hold good on debts for "food, fuel, raiment, medicine and house rent for the family" the same as heretofore.

French LICK and WEST BADEN Springs

In the highlands of Indiana—a two hours ride from Louisville there flow wonderful healing waters, that you'd spend hundreds of dollars to enjoy if they were in Europe.
A recent visitor from Philadelphia, who formerly went to Carlsbad every year, said: "I do not see why anyone goes to Europe for medicinal waters. The water is as beneficial, and the scenery and surrounding country, the air and the opportunities for recreation are better: the hotels and all accommodations are much finer at French Lick-West Baden Springs"—and this gentleman is a native of Switzerland.
The splendid wooded hills with the cool, invigorating air of these highlands where one can enjoy rambles in the depths of the forest, or rides and drives among the numerous bridle paths and roadways, afford pleasure for those who desire rest and quiet; while at the splendid and exhilarating casinos one can have all the entertainment and social pleasure possible at the most fashionable resorts.
